

I wish to express my outrage at Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary. Sinclair licenses the public airwaves free of charge, then serves their own interests by enforcing their corporate will on people who have limited broadcast choices. Sinclair has an obligation to serve the public interest, but for a corporate headquarters to dictate what is in the best interest in a community hundreds of miles away is intolerable. Why a company like Sinclair is allowed to continue their license when their actions fly in the face of the spirit of the FCC rules is beyond me. I will continue to call for stronger, more restrictive, media ownership rules, with a more involved public commentary period for the renewal process.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.
